

DPELFS Web Quest Series Quest #3 – Academic Writing

Features of Academic Writing

<http://www.uefap.com/writing/writframfeat.htm>

This section comes from Using English for Academic Purposes: A Guide for Students in Higher Education created by Andy Gillett (2013). This online practical guide contains a wealth of interactive exercises, tests, videos, materials, references and links to other sites that deal with all aspects of academic writing, among other language skill areas.

Developing Academic Writing

<http://www.readytoresearch.ac.uk/developing-academic-writing>

“Ready to Research” developed by Open Educational Resources (OERs) for research students provides tools and links to resources on quantitative and qualitative research methods, developing academic writing, referencing and avoiding plagiarism, using new technologies in research and so on.

Research and Documentation Online

<http://bcs.bedfordstmartins.com/resdoc5e/index.htm>

This online version of Diana Hacker and Barbara Fister’s handbook Research and Documentation in the Electronic Age (5th ed., Boston, MA: Bedford/St. Martin’s) is a must-have reference for writers on finding and documenting sources in a variety of disciplines.

Purdue Online Writing Lab (OWL)

<http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/section/2/>

OWL looks at a range of topics related to academic writing: from general (rhetorical approaches, document organization, sentence level work) to research and citation styles.

The Write Place Catalog

<http://leo.stcloudstate.edu/catalogue.html>

This handout written by Sharon Cogdill and Judith Kilborn for the Write Place, St. Cloud State University, MN, provides help with academic writing required in a university setting.

Citation Builder

<http://www.lib.ncsu.edu/citationbuilder/>

This resource from North Carolina State University (NCSU) Libraries will attempt to format your citation for you.

Citation Help

<http://libguides.csufresno.edu/citationhelp>

This citation guide developed by Amanda Dinscore provides access to style manuals by discipline. Under the “APA” tab, you’ll find quick links and tutorials. Under the “Formatting Tools” tab, you’ll find videos demonstrating how to use the citation feature in EBSCO Databases and how to generate citations using WorldCat. Links to other citation building tools on the web, such as Google Scholar, Zotero and Citation Machine, are also available. A link to Diana Hacker’s Research and Documentation Online is provided under the “More Citation Resources” tab. To manage bibliographic citations, you can download EndNote X6 software for free from <http://libguides.csufresno.edu/endnote>
